

ANZAC Day

ANZAC Day is a day where we remember the valiant efforts of our brave soldiers who fought for freedom. We remember, commend and honour those who went before us. It was their acts that allowed us to have freedom in the nation of Aotearoa.

But also, someone who fought for our freedom was Jesus. He lived a life of valiancy and gave his life so we could have ours, and in this time, we celebrate and commemorate the fact that we also have freedom from his sovereign act as well.

In this time, as we reflect on ANZAC Day, and thank those who went before us to serve, let us go forward from this and remember to reflect on Jesus in our day to day. The one who sacrificed it all so we could have the chance to live life and life abundantly.

Remembrance by Hillsong Worship is a great reflective song on Jesus and how He gave it all so we could live in freedom:

Ask yourself these questions:

- How has Jesus been so good to me recently?
- What has He been trying to tell me in this season?
- What does His freedom really mean to me?
